For more than 20 years, Dr. Ellyn Bader and Dr. Peter Pearson have been helping couples resolve issues and create strong, loving relationships. Known worldwide through their pioneering work in couples therapy, they are the founders of The Couples Institute in Menlo Park, California. They are frequently invited to speak at major conferences and to conduct training in the psychological treatment of couples throughout the world. Their book on couples therapy for professionals is used in graduate schools across the country. In addition to their professional collaboration, they are married to each other, bringing even greater insight into the work they do. They will educate, enlighten and entertain you with the challenges they have faced as a couple, and how they overcame them to build a strong marriage. Ellyn and Peter have been featured on over 50 radio shows and on television including “The Today Show” and “CBS Early Morning News.” The Bader-Pearson approach is known for its practical applications that help partners create enduring love.
Ellyn Bader

Ellyn Bader, PhD, is a founder and director of The Couples Institute in Menlo Park, California. As a clinical psychologist, workshop leader, author, and speaker, she is dedicated to helping couples create extraordinary relationships. Started in 1980, the educational outreach activities of The Milton H. Erickson Foundation have made it a leading provider of continuing education opportunities for mental health professionals.

Training Opportunities

CONFERENCES
The Foundation organizes educational conferences designed to share and explain state-of-the-art methods, while refining and enhancing clinical skills. Currently these conferences include:

• The International Congress on Ericksonian Approaches to Hypnosis and Psychotherapy (begun in 1980 and scheduled every three years)
• The Brief Therapy Conference (begun in 1988 and scheduled approximately every three years);
• The Couples Conference (first held as a stand-alone conference in 1995 and roughly each year thereafter).

The Evolution of Psychotherapy
Apart from other conferences is the celebrated Evolution of Psychotherapy Conference. The Foundation organized the first Evolution conference in 1985 in Phoenix. It was instantly hailed as a landmark conference—“The largest gathering ever devoted to the practice of psychotherapy” by TIME. At the suggestion of Virginia Satir, the conference was repeated every five years. A three-year cycle was initiated with the 2017 conference.

INTENSIVE TRAINING IN ERICKSONIAN APPROACHES TO HYPNOSIS & THERAPY
Since 1987, the Foundation has offered Intensive Training in Ericksonian Approaches to Hypnosis and Psychotherapy. Held three times a year in Phoenix, Arizona, these workshops have limited enrollment for individualized instruction, and are organized into Fundamental, Intermediate, and Advanced levels of training. All of them focus on principles, applications, and techniques of Ericksonian Hypnotherapy.

MASTER CLASS IN BRIEF PSYCHOTHERAPY
New to the educational opportunities offered by the Foundation is the Master Class in Brief Psychotherapy. This program is limited to 12 participants and open only to licensed, experienced mental health professionals. A special aspect of the Master Class is that it is held at the Erickson home, in Dr. Erickson’s office and teaching study, where he conducted his famous teaching seminars. Since its inception, the Foundation operated out of modest ‘40s style bungalows in central Phoenix. Now the Foundation headquarters and archives are located in newer facilities, which provides a home base for the staff, as well as serving as a destination for practitioners. We can now focus our energy in one place, maximize our efforts, expand our rich archives and continue to enhance the skills of students and professionals.

THE ERICKSON MUSEUM
In 2010 the Foundation purchased Dr. Erickson’s last home in Phoenix, Arizona. The Foundation is committed to preserving the legacy of the late Dr. Erickson by transforming the home at 1201 E. Hayward Avenue into a museum. The home, where “the master” both lived and worked in the last decade of his life, will be preserved with integrity to give visitors an emotionally-charged experience. Friends of the Foundation can rediscover the man behind the methods by “experiencing Erickson” in his actual environment.

Audio, Video & The Foundation Press
THE MILTON H. ERICKSON FOUNDATION

THE ERICKSONIAN MONOGRAPHS
The Foundation is sponsor of The Ericksonian Monographs. The highest quality articles on Ericksonian hypnosis and psychotherapy are included in The Monographs. Ten issues were published under the editorship of Stephen Lankton. The Monograph series evolved into the Annual of Brief Therapy. These are available from Taylor & Francis.

CURRENT THINKING AND RESEARCH IN BRIEF THERAPY
Current Thinking and Research in Brief Therapy: Solutions, Strategies and Narratives. Evolving from the Ericksonian Monographs, this series contains only the highest quality articles on brief therapy theory, practice and research. Volumes I, II and III are available from Taylor & Francis.

THE FOUNDATION PRESS began by publishing the proceedings of the 1998 Brief Therapy and Evolution of Psychotherapy Conferences. The PRESS makes a library of print, audio and video resources available for mental health care providers. These include classics like The Handbook of Ericksonian Psychotherapy. Also offered are DVDs of Dr. Erickson, discussed by Jeffrey Zeig, such as Advanced Techniques of Hypnosis & Psychotherapy: Working with Resistance.

ONLINE ARCHIVES
You can now access the Foundation’s Archives online and for APA credit—beginning with the 2017 Evolution of Psychotherapy collection of 53 video sessions. Also online are workshops, topical panels, great debates, and more. Plus, additional conferences and special programs are coming online all the time! Check with the Foundation’s home page to begin your access.

Institutes, Websites & Newsletter
There are 140 Milton H. Erickson Institutes/Societies in the United States and abroad that have permission to use Dr. Erickson’s name in the title of their organization. Institutes provide clinical services and professional training. There are Institutes in major cities in North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Philippines.

<td>This six-hour program seeks to provide information and recommendations for mental health professionals whose work includes the assessment and treatment of couples and families. The program begins with an update on legal and ethical developments that affect providers, and then moves to a discussion of risk management strategies for clinicians, including the most critical issues faced by clinicians in their work. We continue with important issues concerning confidentiality and “secrets” in couples and family therapy. The program then moves to a discussion of licensing Board complaints against couples and family therapists, starting with information that includes the fact that the highest frequency of board complaints involves conflicts regarding child custody. Finally, we discuss the developments in the use of Telehealth in the provision of services to couples and families. Educational Objectives: 1. State at least three risk factors faced by couples counselors 2. List at least two approaches to family “secrets” in couples counseling 3. Name an author of at least one book or research paper in the area of couples counseling 4. Name at least one organization devoted to the training of couples Counselors</td>

THE FUNDAMENTALS OF RELATIONAL LIFE THERAPY (RLT)

Terry Real, LICSW

Relational Life Therapy (RLT) produces deep, lasting change in couples quickly by breaking many cherished couple’s therapy rules. We take sides, for example. Not all problems are fifty-fifty. We judiciously self-disclose. We’re in it with you. We work with trauma in each partner, doing deep individual work in the presence of one another. We pay close attention to gender—the unique characteristics of men and women in our culture and how those differences collide. We work with issues of both shame and also of grandiosity. We explicitly address power imbalances, and rebalance them. Through lecture, demonstration, and video excerpts of real sessions, workshop participants will learn how to join through the truth, the art of holding the mirror up to our clients in ways that not only leave them feeling you are on their side, but that you are actively rooting for them.

Educational Objectives:
1. Identify the systemic dynamic, the repeating vicious circle, the couple is stuck in.
2. Identify each partner’s self-defeating stance, (angry pursuer), their contribution to the dynamic between them.
3. Demonstrate understanding of the clear map of the repeating loop the couple is mired in.
4. Utilize their relational diagnosis to wake them up to their patterns of dysfunction and wish to connect.

TRANSFORMING RELATIONSHIPS BY TRANSFORMING THE PEOPLE IN THEM

Terry Real, LICSW

The course of treatment in Relational Life Therapy has three phases. The first I call: waking up our clients. The core technique of this phase is joining through the truth, the art of loving confrontation. The second phase is Family of Origin Work. And the core technique of this phase is Inner Child and other forms of trauma work. The third phase is Education, arming our clients with a new relational vision and a host of sophisticated, practical skills to achieve their dreams of a long-term truly intimate relationship. Relational Life Therapy produces deep, permanent change quickly by focusing simultaneously on the individuals in the relationship, the dynamic of the relationship itself, and the cultural context for both.

Educational Objectives:
1. Describe the technique of joining through the truth.
2. Analyze the three phases of RLT.
3. Articulate the current cultural context for relationships and for therapy.

INTRODUCTION TO THE DEVELOPMENTAL MODEL OF COUPLES THERAPY

Ellyn Bader, PhD

Join Ellyn Bader as she provides a solid introduction to The Developmental Model of Couples Therapy. This model enables you to make a targeted assessment of what’s wrong and then select stage-specific interventions based on the developmental capacities your clients are lacking. Learn to move your clients from hurt, bitterness and outrage to collaboration, openness and increased accountability. Ellyn will use video demos and transcripts to reveal the power of this model.

Educational Objectives: 1. Integrate Attachment and Differentiation Theory and Apply these to Couples Development. 2. Demonstrate an understanding of basic neuroscience to explain couples fight patterns. 3. Diagnose the couples stage of development. 4. Define differentiation and demonstrate why it matters. 5. Control and contain conflict in your office. 6. Develop targeted treatment plans for hostile/fighting couples and conflict avoiding couples.

SYMPOSIUM 2
INTRODUCTION TO 2 MODELS

Sue Johnson, EdD; Stan Tatkin, PsyD, LMFT

Each faculty member will present basic principles for their model to help the audience understand the strengths of the model: EFT and PACT. The essential features of EFT- a client centered alliance, a focus on emotion regulation and balance, the creation of self and system change, and the key interventions and corrective moments that have been shown to lead to predictable lasting change in love. PACT was developed out of exciting, cutting-edge research in three areas: developmental neuroscience, biology of human arousal, and attachment theory. PACT focuses strongly on moment-to-moment shifts in the face, body, and voice, and asks partners to pay close attention to these while they interact. The goal is secure functioning.

Educational Objectives:
1. Outline the key features of EFT that have been shown to lead to successful outcome. 2. Describe at least three principles of secure functioning relationship.

10:15 AM-12:15 PM

WORKSHOPS 7-9

WS 07
THE CORE SKILLS OF EFT IN PRACTICE

Sue Johnson, EdD

This workshop will outline the core skills of EFT and consist of core exercises and illustrations of processes such as building an alliance, outlining negative cycles of interaction, assembling and deepening emotion and choreographing corrective interactions that gradually rebuilt secure connection.

Educational Objectives:
1. Describe the key moves and moments in EFT- Especially the EFT Tango. 2. Outline the core skills of the EFT model. 3. Describe stuck places and dead-ends and how to escape from them in session.

WS 08
INTRODUCTION TO A PSYCHOBIOLOGICAL APPROACH TO COUPLE THERAPY

Part 1

Stan Tatkin, Psy.D, LMFT

PACT is a non-linear, poly-theoretical approach that fuse theories of attachment, developmental neuroscience, and arousal regulation. PACT is quickly gaining a reputation for effectively treating couples typically thought of as challenging. This two-part workshop will introduce attendees to this psychobiological model, the forensic-like techniques employed to obtain information rapidly, the skills required to quickly read and assess microexpressions and micromovements and other somatic signalling, the use of creative and sometimes outrageous interventions, how to regulate difficult partners and couples as well as oneself, how to identify and work with various presentations of insecure attachment, how to differentiate psychological defenses from neurological deficits, how to recognize and deal with partner acting out, how to get partners into a light trance, how to determine attachment organization through interview and finding somatic markers, how to work strategically and improvisationally, and how to guide partners toward secure functioning. This approach is highly effective, not for the faint of heart, yet exceeding fun! Clinical video and live demonstrations included.

Educational Objectives:
1. List at least five interventions for getting information from partners. 2. Describe and define secure functioning in relationships. 3. Apply at least two different techniques for managing acting out behaviors.
10:15 AM-12:15 PM  (Cont’d)

WORKSHOPS 7-9

WS 09  Advanced
TREATING AFFAIRS USING THE GOTTMAN METHOD
Carrie Cole, MED, LPC
This presentation will explain the three stages of therapy with couples who have been affected by an affair.

Educational Objectives:
1. Identify the importance of physiology in working with affair couples. 2. Describe how to work with the couple during each stage of treatment. 3. Identify when to move from one stage of treatment to the next stage of treatment.

12:15-1:30 PM  Lunch Break

Keynote 02
ATTACHMENT SCIENCE IN ACTION: THE EFT ROUTE TO SAFE AND SOUND
Sue Johnson, EdD
Attachment science in action- The EFT route to safe and sound in love relationships. Attachment- as captured in the EFT model- offers an on target, tested and profoundly relevant map to love and loving. This presentation will outline this map and show how key interventions lead predictably to secure lasting connection and promote health and growth in individual partners.

Educational Objectives:
1. Outline the core precepts of attachment theory and science and their practical implications for in session intervention. 2. Describe the promise of attachment theory for the psychotherapy field.

2:45-4:45 PM  VIDEO DISCUSSION / WORKSHOPS 10-11

WS 10  Fundamental
THE CORE SKILLS OF EFT IN PRACTICE
Sue Johnson, EdD
Participants will experiment with the core skills of EFT with a partner and watch illustrative video clips to identify decision points and new interventions in EFT.

Educational Objectives:
1. Demonstrate key skills. 2. Outline negative cycles and assembling emotion.
INTRODUCTION TO A PSYCHOBIOLOGICAL APPROACH TO COUPLE THERAPY

Continued

Stan Tatkin, PsyD, LMFT

This two-part workshop will introduce attendees to this psychobiological model, the forensic-like techniques employed to obtain information rapidly, the skills required to quickly read and assess microexpressions and micro-movements and other somatic signalling, the use of creative and sometimes outrageous interventions, how to regulate difficult partners and couples as well as oneself, how to identify and work with various presentations of insecure attachment, how to differentiate psychological defenses from neurological deficits, how to recognize and deal with partner acting out, how to get partners into a light trance, how to determine attachment organization through interview and finding somatic markers, how to work strategically and improvisationally, and how to guide partners toward secure functioning. This approach is highly effective, not for the faint of heart, yet exceeding fun! Clinical video and live demonstrations included.

Educational Objectives:
1. Describe three deceptive behaviors commonly seen in couple therapy.
2. Apply the beginning technique for getting partners into a light trance.
3. Detect acting out behavior when it occurs and be able to apply at least two interventions for stopping it.
WORKSHOPS 12-14

WS 12

THE DEVELOPMENTAL MODEL OF COUPLES THERAPY:
ADVANCED EXPERIENTIAL WORKSHOP
Ellyn Bader, PhD
This advanced workshop is designed to demonstrate core concepts of The Developmental Model of Couples Therapy. Participants will increase their skills in the Initiator-Inquirer process and in effective confrontation and incisive resolution of intrapsychic conflicts. Join Ellyn Bader and learn how to make developmental assists, strengthen your confrontation skills and promote couples development.
Educational Objectives:
1. Describe the Initiator-Inquirer process and show how it is used to address developmental deficits. 2. Delineate 6 types of Confrontation. 3. Define developmental assist and show how to use these assists for moving clients forward.

WS 13

WORKING WITH ESCALATED COUPLES:
COMING HOME FROM HELL WITH EFT
Sue Johnson, EdD
This workshop will outline the EFT Way through conflict and disconnection, pain and mayhem that is a couple at war with each other. Specific interventions such as Catch the Bullet will be outlined. In the second half of the workshop, the process of attachment injury healing will also be addressed.
Educational Objectives:
1. Describe the attachment/EFT perspective of conflict and escalation. 2. Outline specific interventions to create a secure base in highly escalated couples. 3. Describe the process and interventions to address attachment injury and repair in EFT.

WS 14

USE PACT FOR WORKING WITH PERSONALITY DISORDERS
Stan Tatkin, PsyD, LMFT
This workshop will take the first two introductory seminars and push it working with personality disordered partners. We will move from an attachment model to that of an American object relations/ego psychology to understand the structural and functional differences between insecure attachment and personality disordered individuals and how to work with them in couple therapy.
Educational Objectives:
1. List at least five differences between insecure attachment presentations and that of disorders of the self. 2. Describe at least two interventions for working with various personality disorders in couple therapy. 3. Apply at least three strategies for therapist self-regulation.

THE NEUROSCIENCE BEHIND DOING THE RIGHT THING

Stan Tatkin, PsyD, MFT

We currently live in a time of great emotional stress around matters of fairness, justice, ethics, and morality. As couple therapists, we are working with the smallest unit of a society, the two-person system that is the primary attachment partnership. Therapists should have a strong understanding of their own moral and ethical compass when guiding partner behavior that occurs inside and outside of therapy. Therapists should also have at least a beginning knowledge of the psycho-neurobiological correlates of not only fairness, justice, and sensitivity, but of the ability to do the right thing for the self as well as the other. This keynote will attempt to cover very dense but vital topic that answers questions such as, why do we self-harm, do things that make use feel better at the cost of being better, as well as act first and think later.

Educational Objectives:
1. List at least two areas of the brain involved in error correction.
2. Describe at least three reasons people tend to do the wrong thing.
3. Apply at least two techniques for getting partners in a couple to do the right thing.

ADVANCED RELATIONAL LIFE THERAPY (RLT)

Terry Real, LCSW

This workshop moves beyond the first phase of RLT to detail the theory and technique of phase two: Family Of Origin Work, trauma and Inner Child Work. In phase one we identified each partner’s relational stance and how the two stances combine to produce the couple’s choreography – the vicious circle they come to us trapped within. Now we travel through the stance back to where it first came from – the particular childhood experiences each partner’s Adaptive Child part was adapting to. Focusing on one partner at a time, we extract the young child part and imaginatively engage it – begin to relate to it. The therapist facilitates an explicit, caring relationship between the person’s Functional Adult self and the Adaptive Child part that has fueled the dysfunctional relational stance.

Educational Objectives:
1. List the pros and cons of inner child work in couples therapy.
2. Distinguish between wounded and adaptive child parts.
3. Explain the techniques for facilitating a healing relationship between child and adult parts of self.

EFT: Presentation of a change event in Stage 2 of EFT- Restructuring Attachment- Alex and Megan. This video will present the beginning of a major change event in EFT- blamer softening – or – a Hold Me Tight conversation with a now engaged withdrawn male. PACT: Obtaining information quickly from partners via explicit and implicit communication.

Educational Objectives:
1. EFT- Assemble and utilize the music of emotion to change the dance between distressed partners.
2. Describe how these events change self and relational system.
3. PACT- Apply at least three techniques for obtaining useful information quickly from partners in a couple.
4. Describe at least three signs a partner may be using deception.

Dr. Jeffrey K. Zeig has spent a lifetime evolving what he calls “evocative therapy.” In Evocation, he continues an exploration that began decades ago as he sought to trace—and to expand upon—the nuances and applications of Milton Erickson’s extraordinary work. Turning here to the original masters of evocative communication—painters, composers, filmmakers, poets, choreographers—he demystifies the grammar of the artist’s expression, teaching readers how to use it to enhance and empower their therapeutic communication. This book is built out from a central belief. Therapy at its best, whatever the paradigm, invites shared awakening rather than relying on data delivery.

“Jeff Zeig shows us a different way of approaching therapeutic change: to assume the client has answers and resources and then go about arranging a context in which the building blocks of change are evoked.”

—Bill O’Hanlon, author of Do One Thing Different

“The novice and the veteran both will benefit from examples and exercises aimed at making therapeutic interactions more evocative, focusing on the components of orienting toward, being strategic, and utilization.”

—Lynn Lyons, LICSW

“Jeffrey Zeig’s fourth book in his innovative series, Evocation, shines a bright and revealing light on many of the camouflaged artistic elements of his unique style of psychotherapy.”

—Michael D. Yapko, Ph.D., author of Trancework: an Introduction to the Practice of Clinical Hypnosis (5th edition) and The Discriminating Therapist

ACCESS THE FOUNDATION ARCHIVE FOR CE CREDIT!

The Milton H Erickson Foundation has one of the world’s most extensive archives of media on psychotherapy...

One of my goals for the Foundation has been to make our archives available at low cost to students of psychotherapy around the world. Finally that dream becomes reality.

Please take this opportunity to view our very first offering, which can include home study continuing education credit on select streaming seminars.

Currently our online continuing education program is offered for APA credit only, but we hope to offer more approvals in the future.

Kind regards,
Jeffrey K Zeig PhD

The initial offering for home study options is 2017 Evolution of Psychotherapy Conference

53 video sessions.

Keynotes, Clinical Demonstrations, Workshops, Topical Panels, Great Debates, Conversation Hours, Speeches and Master Classes are now available.

Go online and select the streaming seminars have the option to "Include CE (Continuing Education credits)" for an extra fee, which is built into the pricing of these seminars. The amount of CE credit is equivalent to 1 credit per hour. You will be able to view the seminar, and then complete a quiz afterwards to demonstrate the knowledge they have gained. Once this is completed, you will have the ability to download, email, or directly print out their certificate of proof for completing these home study courses.

The Milton H. Erickson Foundation, Inc is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists.

Ericksonian Hypnosis: Advanced Techniques for Beginners

Hypnosis is the fundamental paradigm for an experiential approach, and it is the source from which psychotherapy originated. So what is hypnosis, and how is Ericksonian hypnosis and psychotherapy different? And how can we elicit in patients a constructive therapeutic experience through trance? How can we more powerfully present ideas and concepts? And how can we take experiential methods from hypnosis and apply them to improve our practice without formal trance? This workshop will answer these questions and more.

You will discover how to elicit a trance state and learn its essential elements from an Ericksonian perspective. And you will enhance responsiveness and compliance in your patient through the application of novel assessment criteria based on the client’s values. Powerful hypnotic language can be tailored so that the trance and subsequent therapy is developed in the most appropriate and efficient way for each patient.
